

Global Patient Organisation Funding

Meningitis Research Foundation

Meningitis Research Foundation is a leading UK, Irish and international charity that brings together people and expertise to defeat meningitis and septicaemia wherever it exists.

During 2020:

GlaxoSmithKline made the following grants to Meningitis Research Foundation (MRF):

- £55,000 core funding to assist with strengthening the patient voice in Europe, building global meningitis advocacy and a global meningitis research network
- £70,000 project funding for the continued development of the Global Meningitis Genome Partnership and Meningitis Progress Tracker
- £5,000 to support the cost of planned Meningitis
- Symposium series.

Our support represented 5.6% of their overall income.

During 2019:

- £30,000 Core funding to assist in strengthening the patient voices in UK/Europe and building global advocacy
- £50,000 Project funding for the continued development of the Global Meningococcal Genome Library and Meningitis Progress Tracker
- £35,000 Sponsorship of MRF's 12th Scientific Conference in November 2019 including for a stand and symposium at the bi-annual conference.

Our support represented 5% of their overall income.

During 2018:

GlaxoSmithKline made the following grants to Meningitis Research Foundation (MRF):

- £60,000 Core funding to assist strengthening the patient voice & build partnership

- £25,000 Project funding for the development of the Global Meningococcal Genome Library
- £30,000 Project funding to support the development of a global meningitis data website.

Our support represented 3.9% of their overall income.